

NURS 4177 Nursing Research
 Fall 2005

Online Literature Resources

Online full-text journals available through CSU Library

1. Go to CSU Library Homepage
2. Click on "non-Galileo databases"
3. Scroll down to "Ovid Medical Journals" and click on it
4. Click on the second item in the list "Your Journals @ OVID" (NOT the first item...they are not full text even though the title says they are)
5. You may then search or browse journals.

ORGANIZATION	WEBSITE URL	COMMENT
Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality	http://www.ahrq.gov	Government agency whose mission includes "both translating research findings into better patient care and providing policymakers and other health care leaders with information needed to make critical health care decisions." Site offers EBP information as well as information about the agency's Evidence-based Practice Center (EPC) program.
Canadian Centre for Health Evidence	http://www.cche.net	Begun in March 1999 under the auspices of the Canadian Office of Health, the non-profit centre "promotes evidence-based health care by presenting knowledge-based resources to health professionals in ways that facilitate their optimum use.
Clinical Evidence	http://www.clinicalevidence.com	Published by the BMJ Publishing Group, this regularly updated online text aims to "cover common or important clinical conditions seen in primary and hospital care," including the "benefits and harms of preventative and therapeutic interventions, with emphasis on outcomes that matter to patients."
Cochrane Collaboration	http://www.cochrane.org	This "international non-profit and independent organization" strives to make "up-to-date, accurate information about the effects of healthcare readily available worldwide," publishing and distributing "systematic reviews of healthcare interventions and promot{ing} the search for evidence in the form of clinical trials and other studies of interventions."
CPM Resource Center	http://cpmrc.com	The Clinical Practice Model (CPM) Resource Center develops EBP guidelines and information in cooperation with its consortium members – and also offers consulting engagements – with the goal of "co-creating healthy, integrated work cultures that positively influence the health and health care of this humanity."
Evidence-Based Nursing	http://ebn.bmjournals.com	Published by BMJ Publishing Group and the Royal College of Nursing Publishing Company, this quarterly journal "scans 140 general medical, specialist and nursing journals to identify clinically

ORGANIZATION	WEBSITE URL	COMMENT
		important research for nurses," publishing the most relevant articles as "structured abstracts."
Joanna Briggs Institute for Evidence-Based Nursing and Midwifery	http://www.joannabriggs.edu.au	With members within Australia and beyond, this institute seeks to foster a "collaborative approach to the evaluation of evidence derived from a diverse range of sources, including experience, expertise and all forms of rigorous research, "as well as "the translation, transfer and utilization of the 'best available' evidence into health care practice."
National Guideline Clearinghouse	http://www.guideline.gov	Produced by the AHRQ in partnership with the American Medical Association and American Association of Health Plans, the National Guideline Clearinghouse offers "a comprehensive database of evidence-based clinical practice guidelines and related documents" whose intended audience is nurses, physicians, and other health care providers.
National Institute for Clinical Evidence (NICE)	http://www.nice.org.uk	Established within Great Britain's National Health Service (NHS) in 1999, NICE works to "provide patients, health professionals and the public with authoritative, robust and reliable guidance on current "best practice," covering both technologies and "clinical management of specific conditions."
National Library of Medicine	http://www.nlm.nih.gov	Maintained by the National Institutes of Health, this site offers search functions to facilitate gathering EBP information.
"Netting the Evidence"	http://www.shef.ac.uk/~scharr/ir/netting	Great Britain-based website offers tools and links for understanding, appraising, and implementing EBP, with the goal of "facilitat{ing} evidence-based healthcare by providing support and access to helpful organizations and useful learning resources.
NHS Centre for Evidence-Based Medicine	http://www.cebm.net	Established in Oxford, England to "promote evidence-based health care and provide support and resources to anyone who wants to make use of them."
Sarah Cole Hirsh Institution for Best Nursing Practices Based on Evidence	http://fpb.cwru.edu/HirshInstitute	Run by the Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing at Case Western Reserve University, this institute offers evidence reviews, conferences, and consulting services with the goal of "build{ing} a repository of best nursing practices based on research findings."
University Health Network Centre For Evidence-Based Medicine	http://www.cebm.utoronto.ca	Funded by the Mount Sinai Hospital – University Health Network, Department of Medicine in Toronto, Canada, this site strives to "develop, disseminate, and evaluate resources" that can be used in practice and in undergraduate, postgraduate, and continuing education for "health care professionals from a variety of clinical disciplines."

Source
Evidence-Based nursing practice: Instilling rigor into clinical practice. (2005). Washington, D.C.: The Advisory Board, Nursing Executive Center.

Beyea, S.(2000). Finding internet resources to support evidence-based practice, AORN Journal, September.

Beyea, S. (2000). More Internet Resources for Learning About Evidence-Based Practice. AORN Journal, October.

Ciliska D., DiCenso, A. (2001). Resources to enhance evidence-based nursing practice. AACN Clinical Issues, November.

Youngblut, J., Brooten, D. (2001). Evidence-based nursing practice: Why is it important?" AACN Clinical Issues, November.